Re: Rooming for 2015 regional conventions

Dear Brothers:

We know that you are anxious to know about the dates and location for your 2015 regional convention. During the Service Meeting on the week of January 5, there will be information presented that will inform you of those details.

New rooming arrangement: Before the dates and locations of the regional conventions are released, we want to inform you of a new arrangement for accommodation.

We are taking a new approach to rooming arrangements for regional conventions. Qualified brothers have approached selected hotels or hotel bureaus in convention cities. These brothers have spent much time over the last three months, making numerous visits to the hotels near each regional convention. As a consequence of their efforts you will find a larger selection of hotels available, and the majority of the rates offered are more competitive than they were last year. Therefore, please do not book any hotel rooms until you receive further direction. To make this information easily accessible, we now have a new dedicated website available for all our convention hotel bookings. More about this will be explained at the Service Meeting referred to above.

Benefits from the new arrangement: Much work has been done in order to provide good hotels at competitive rates for the brothers. By using our website portal to make our hotel bookings we will greatly strengthen the position of our negotiating brothers when they visit the hotels to discuss even better rates for 2016.

Your cooperation is appreciated: The smoothness of this new rooming arrangement will largely depend on the cooperation of everyone involved. Therefore, may we encourage you to support the recommended hotels from our website. The listing will be broad enough to give a choice of good quality accommodation while using the most cooperative hotels.

We wish to thank you for your support and cooperation.

Your brothers,
Christian Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses
