Re: Provision for homebound publishers to receive convention program

Dear Brothers,

Many of our brothers and sisters have circumstances that limit their ability to attend one of the 2014 "Keep Seeking First God's Kingdom!" conventions in person. For such ones, video recordings of the East Rutherford, New Jersey, international convention programs will be made available for them to view on a mobile device or on a computer.

The English international convention program presented in East Rutherford from June 20 to 22, 2014, will be available for viewing beginning Friday, June 27, 2014. The Spanish international convention program presented in East Rutherford from June 27 to 29, 2014, will be available for viewing beginning Friday, July 4, 2014. Each convention will be provided as six recordings, one for each session of the three-day convention. No other conventions will be recorded. These recordings will be available until March 2, 2015.

Please do not announce this provision to the congregation. The body of elders will determine who qualifies for this provision and will give each one the information below that pertains to his language. An elder should instruct the publisher that this link is not to be distributed and that the publisher should not view the convention before his congregation attends the convention.

This year, instead of distributing audio recordings to those who were unable to attend, you may explain this provision to publishers who miss the convention because of sickness or other circumstances. Since this provision involves technology that may be difficult for the elderly and infirm, elders should be alert to provide assistance. If the elderly and infirm do not have equipment to access the program, please have publishers who are familiar with this technology assist them by loaning equipment, providing downloaded files, or by some other means making it available to them.

We encourage publishers to attend the convention personally, if at all possible. (Heb. 10:24, 25) However, for those who have circumstances that limit their ability to attend in person, we are happy to make this provision possible. We send our warm love and best wishes.

Your brothers,
