Re: Watchtower Library—2016 Edition

Dear Brothers:

Each year, many brothers and sisters look forward to receiving their new edition of Watchtower Library, which is now being produced in over 60 languages.

The 2015 edition of Watchtower Library included a feature that could be used by those having Internet access. With that feature, the data could be updated around the middle of the year. With that one-time update, publications released in the first half of 2016 were added and could be included in searches done thereafter.

Beginning with the 2016 edition, updates will become available about once a month. Thus, after you install this edition and choose automatic or manual updates, the program can obtain current publications over the Internet. For example, issues of The Watchtower that you have recently studied or will soon study in the congregation will be added to Watchtower Library. Additionally, at the end of 2017, you will not need to request a new DVD—you can continue to use the edition you already have. It will regularly be updated with publications as they are released and will include any new program features that may be added.

If you wish to take advantage of these regular updates over the Internet but have not yet requested a copy of the 2016 edition of Watchtower Library, please make your request known to the literature servant as soon as possible.

Please accept an expression of our warm Christian love.

Your brothers,

Christian Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses
